New Instruction Block Management

Presenting Belgrave Square, a new instruction which undoubtedly adds prestige to the team's expanding portfolio in the SW1 district.

Regarding this recent addition, Rupert Wertheimer, the Director of Block Management, expressed, "Having established connections in the SW1 area for more than a decade, our team is exceptionally well-positioned to meet our clients' requirements, negotiate deals, and ensure a comprehensive hands-on approach on behalf of those we represent. I am delighted that the team can now include a prestigious property like Belgrave Square in their portfolio."

Belgrave Square, a beautiful 19th-century garden square located in SW1, London, serves as the focal point of Belgravia. The architectural design mirrors the original vision of property contractor Thomas Cubitt, who enlisted George Basevi to craft all the terraces for the 2nd Earl Grosvenor.
